W. E. Young, of the reclamation service, has returned from an engineering trip to the Bear Lake country, where he has been classifying lands under the Idaho irrigation scheme.

The sermon delivered last Sunday morning, by Rev. Fish of the Unitarian church on "Progressive Unitarianism," met with such favor, that by request it will be repeated in the form of a lecture tomorrow morning. The Mutual Improvement associations of the Seventh ward will render the following program tomorrow evening: lection, choir; solo, Miss Ruth Dahl-quist; lecture, "Gen. Thomas L. Kane," Richard W. Young; solo, Walter Wallace; selection, choir. The members of the Twenty-third ward choir have issued invitations for a grand bow party to be given in the ward meetinghouse Friday evening, April 1, at which the ladies must provide bows either in duplicate or match ribbon worn. The officers and men of the National will celebrate this evening, in the state armory, the tenth anniversary of the mustering in of the first commands of the state troops, by holding a smoker which will be attended by Gov. Wells and staff, officers from Fort Douglas, and the National Guard gen-

A very enjoyable time is pro-In the Eighteenth ward chapel to-morrow night Rabbi Reynolds of the Jewish congregation will address the joint session of the young people's Mutual Improvement association. His subject is "Russia and Japan," and be-ing a native of Russia, the Rabbi is well able to speak on the burning question of the day. The ward choir will furnish a special musical program. The services begin at 6:30 ap. m. There is a report in legal circles to the effect that suits are to be filed against the Utah Fuel company affect-ing thousands of acres of its most valuable coal lands. The grounds upon which the suits are based are that the company has entered into contracts with individuals to use their names for filing upon coal lands, the parties deeding the lands to the company for a nom-inal consideration as soon as patented.

John H. Cahoon has returned from attendance on a convention at Cincinnati of the brickmakers of the country, pad after visiting brickyard plants there and in other parts of the country, is able to return home and state as a fact that Salt Lake valley brickmakers need not take any backwater from eastern manufacturers. In fact the Utah manufacturers are in as good shape to turn out a fine article as any of the eastern yards. What is known as Pink Eye is prevalent among school children, and con-sists of an inflamed condition of the eyes due to cold which strikes the weakest spot in the anatomy-in this case the optical organs. The ailment is not considered dangerous, only care must be taken not to let the inflamation get too far, and it is best to give the eyes a rest. Induenza, which is at times mistaken for whooping cough, is also having something of a run.

The report of Prof. Horace G. Cummings in regard to Utah's educational exhibit at the St. Louis fair has been filed with the secretary of the Utah commission. The report states that educators all over the state are very enthusiastic over the display and are rendering every assistanct possible to make it a decidedly creditable one in spite of the fact that the time for the collection of the exhibit was curtailed by several months on account of trouble in securing space. It is expected that an informal meeting of the Utah commission will be held Monday at which time the report will be discussed.

Dr. W. T. Cannon, who was threatened with the loss of his right arm a week or 10 days ago, is again able to be about and attend to business. The doctor met with a singular accident in the opening of an abcess on a patient. As he laid down his knife he slightly cut the index finger of his right hand. In a remarkably short time his hand and arm commenced to swell and it was apparent he had a bad case of blood poisoning. Now, however, he is on the road to recovery and expects to be en-tirely well in the course of a few days.

The funeral services of Mrs. Ellen C. Liggan were conducted this morning at 10 o'clock at the Catholic cathedral, beautiful musical numbers were rendered by Miss Nora Gleason and Miss Lottle Owen. The casket and altar were laden with exquisite floral pieces, the gifts of friends who gathered to pay their last tributes to the departed. The interment took place at Calvary cemetery. Three daughters are left to mourn the deceased, Misses Anna, Margaret and Lulu Liggan, and the sympathy of many friends will go out to them in their bereavement.

State Engineer Doremus is very much gratified at the Walcott letter, the more so because, as he says, gov-ernment officials are rather careful about endorsing any project in which they have not the utmost confidence. And in this connection, Mr. Doremus calls attention to the necessity of the people being united in support of the project submitted by the government, and the folly of any individual or aggregation of individuals standing in the way of the improvement. He hopes that all landowners will harmonize in this matter, and says that the pro-posed improvements will pay for themselves many times over.

YOU WILL LOOK TWICE.

New Attraction on Main.

If you want an office, you do not want one in some obscure building where your name will not be visible to pedestrians, Main Street between South Temple and First South is a rialto on which people most do congregate, with Z. C. M. I. as the leading business cen. ter. On the other side of the street is a new building. You may have noticed it; if not, you will. It has been thoroughly modernized by the present owners, McGurrin & Co., Investment Bankers, who have spared no pains or expense to make the new Security Trust Building a thoroughly up to date office building in every respect.

CLARK'S LAST RECITAL.

It Packed Barratt Hall to the Very Doors Last Night.

Fully 1,000 people attended the recital given by Professor Clark last evening. Barratt hall was filled to its utmost capacity, "Henry V." the poet's hero king, being read. This is the last recital of the series,

Prof. Clark made some explanations at the beginning, and occasionally as the play proceeded. This drama, he said, was never staged nowadays. If really cannot be from its nature, since it is more epic than dramatic. Henry now does this, now that, and so on to the end. The king is one of nature's no-blemen, possessed of fine common sense. The one word consideration is the keynote of the king's character, and there-fore of the drama. The speech of Har-ry to Catherine—"I speak to thee as a plain soldier: if thou canst love me for this, take me; if not, to say to thee that I shall die, is true; but for thy love, by the Lord, no; yet I love thee too"-Mr. Clark characterized as consummate common sense in love, The reading was exceptionally good from every standpoint. The same easy, graceful, and natural rendering of the parts marked the entire recital. The audience particularly enjoyed his interpretation of the speech of the king to his bedraggled army just previous to the battle of Agincourt. Most of them had heard a celebrated actor recite the same passage, and they therefore took delight in the absence of the rant which characterized the other. This is one of the best readings we have listened to during the course of these recitals.
